JULIE SAINT-JEAN

Franco-Polish emerging artist, raised in Paris and having lived around the globe, in the United States, the United Kingdom, Sydney and Singapore, she is now based in France.

Julie Saint-Jean gets her inspiration from her multiple travels: Russia, Scandinavia, Laos, Vietnam, Fiji, Tonga, Vanuatu, Australia, New Zealand, a long list of beautiful countries where art is more than a cultural element in its own right, it is a way of life, it's an essence, a reason to be. She likes to paraphrase Georgia O'Keefe in saying "I found I could say things with color and shapes that I couldn't say any other way – things I had no words for."

Julie Saint-Jean mostly paints on canvas, using acrylic, spray paint and watercolour. She uses any tools which she may come across to find the relevant textures: sometimes traditional brushes, food, fingers, utensils, leaves.

Her paintings are for each individual to see what they wish to see: there is no recommended direction to the painting.

Marble is not just stone-it is patience made visible, strenght polished into beauty
